

ARREST TWO IN GAMING SYNDICATE RAIDS HERE

Total Rail Halt Looms!

Shutowns Follow Strikes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four unions went on strike against Union Pacific Railroad at midnight and industry spokesmen reacted quickly today with announcements they would carry through on threats to shut down all the nation's rail traffic.

Penn-Central, the nation's largest rail carrier serving most of the Eastern seaboard, announced in Philadelphia it would discontinue operations at 10 p.m. EST today unless the strike against Union Pacific is terminated before that time.

TO CANCEL TRAINS
The company announced passenger trains which cannot reach their final terminals before 10 p.m. will be canceled to avoid detention along the routes. Freight trains will be held in intermediate yards, the company said.

In Roanoke, Va., the Norfolk and Western Railroad announced it too would shut down all operations at 10 p.m. EST., unless the Union Pacific strike ends before then.

The company said all passenger and freight trains will halt and the shops and general offices will be closed except for some supervisory personnel.

Other railroads had not announced specific plans to cease operations but industry spokesmen said shortly after pickets first appeared in three Midwest cities that all the carriers would shut down.

FIRST PICKETS APPEAR
Union Pacific pickets first appeared in North Platte and Omaha, Neb., and Council Bluffs, Iowa, as members of four shop craft unions whose latest contract expired over a year ago walked off their jobs. The National Railway Labor Conference announced plans for a 10:30 a.m. EST press conference today in which industry spokesmen were expected to outline plans for the nationwide shutdown.

John P. Hiltz Jr., chief negotiator for the industry, said earlier today "They will be shut down today at a time to be determined and announced."

ARRESTED: Andrew G. Andrews (left), a Twin City Real estate salesman, and Frank Bovo, a bailiff's officers on charges of conspiracy to bribe a bondsman, were arrested by Berrien county sheriff's officers on charges of conspiracy to bribe a policeman. Sheriff Forrest (Nick) Jewell said the arrests were made during an investigation of organized gambling.

Evidence Seized At 8 Places

Prosecutor Sheriff Call It Crackdown

By TOM BRUNDRETT
Staff Writer

Two local men were arrested and eight places raided simultaneously last night by Berrien county, state and federal officers in what was described as a crackdown on organized crime. Berrien county Sheriff Forrest (Nick) Jewell and county Prosecutor Ronald Taylor said the move was just a beginning in efforts to combat organized criminal activity. They announced the arrests and raids at a special 8:45 a.m. press conference today in the county jail.

WELL KNOWN HERE
Charged with conspiracy to bribe a police officer were two well-known Benton Harbor area residents: Frank Bovo, 35, of 868 Adams avenue, Benton township, and Andrew G. Andrews, 37, of 449 Eloise drive Fairplain.

Bovo operates a bail bonding company. Andrews is a real estate salesman, a former restaurateur and a candidate for the Benton Harbor city commission five years ago.

Bovo was released under $4,000 bond set last night by District court Judge John T. Hammond. Andrews was held in jail over night and was to be arraigned later today.

BRIBERY CHARGED
Both men, said Jewell and Taylor, were arrested in connection with an alleged bribe case involving Berrien county sheriff's Detective Ronald Immoos.

According to Jewell and Taylor, the officer was approached about five months ago and was ordered by his superiors to enter into an agreement as an undercover move. He received $800 over the five months, Jewell and Taylor said, to supply information about what the department was doing against organized crime. They commended Immoos for his work.

Bovo and Andrews were arrested in Babe's tavern, Main street, Benton Harbor. Jewell said Bovo was taken into custody about 5:30 p.m. Andrews was arrested about midnight.

The authorities said seven of the raids were at homes, rented rooms and liquor establishments in the St. Joseph-Benton Harbor area and at one place in South Bend. About 20 officers from the Sheriff's department, State Police, Federal Bureau of Investigation and Benton Harbor took part.

Taylor declined to specify what had been confiscated or where the eight places were located. Records and other paraphernalia were seized.

Nixon Wants Missile Boost

Opponents Of ABM Unhappy Again

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Nixon has decided to ask Congress for a major expansion of the missile defense system to provide "virtually infallible" protection against the possibility of attack—or nuclear blackmail—by Red China a decade from now.

Nixon's announcement at a news conference Friday night rekindled rumblings of discontent from congressional opponents of the antiballistic missile—ABM—and expressions of support from those who successfully defended the program in bitter debate last summer.

The President said the United States must take steps now to handle a situation that may confront the nation in a decade. "Ten years from now the Communist Chinese, for example, among others, may have a significant nuclear capability," he said. "If relations with mainland China aren't improved, he said, 'it will be very important for the United States to have some kind of defense so that nuclear blackmail could not be used against the United States' or U.S. allies in Asia."

COST $6 BILLION
The first phase and proposed second phase together would cost an estimated $6 billion over several years. While first phase ABMs are to protect retaliatory missile sites, the second phase would defend U.S. cities.

Responding to questions at his first news conference of the year, Nixon also: Issued a new warning to North Vietnam against attacks that would jeopardize U.S. forces in South Vietnam. If such attacks occur, he said, "We have the means and I will be prepared to use those means strongly to deal with that situation."

Said he would decide within 30 days on Israel's request for more American arms to strengthen its security against its Arab enemies. Nixon indicated he would discuss with French President Georges Pompidou

Man Falls, Shoots Self In Stomach

SOUTH HAVEN — A South Haven man was listed in fair condition today at South Haven Community hospital after he accidentally shot himself Friday.

Arthur Thivierge, Jr., 23, of 124 North Shore drive, was wounded in the stomach by a .22 caliber bolt action rifle following the mishap at approximately noon near his home. Thivierge told troopers from the South Haven state police post that he was target shooting when he fell, discharging the gun.

He underwent surgery Friday night after the bullet was found lodged in a muscle near the spine.

Tricia Nixon Has German Measles

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tricia Nixon, who went to Florida to recover from a bout of flu, is now ill with German measles as well, the White House said today.

Her mother has flown to Florida to be with her 23-year-old daughter at their Key Biscayne home, where Tricia was staying alone, except for staff.

Mrs. Nixon made the flight Friday night after the President's news conference. But her trip and the illness were not announced until this morning by

Zollar's Medicaid Fraud Charges Labeled 'Untrue'

DETROIT (AP)—Charges by a state legislator that abuses and possible fraudulent practices by doctors have cost the state up to $15 million in Medicaid funds were branded as "completely untrue" Friday by John McCabe, president of Michigan Blue Shield, which administers the program.

State Senate Appropriations Committee Chairman Charles O. Zollar, R-Benton Harbor, said Thursday that a probe of the medicaid program ordered by his committee turned up improper practices which, if eliminated, would have saved the state $5 million to $6 million, "maybe even $15 million."

Medicaid is a state-federal program to provide assistance to people who, while they may not be poor enough to qualify for other forms of public assistance, cannot afford expensive medical treatment.

ABUSE 'MINIMAL'
"The abuse is minimal and always has been," McCabe said at a news conference. McCabe said that while there have been "some problems" involving individual doctors, the problem of abuses was not nearly as widespread or serious as Zollar implied.

He also took issue with Zollar's claim that Medicaid payments dropped $500,000 in September 1969—the month the committee probe began—compared with the same month a year earlier. Zollar implied that the drop occurred because the existence of the investigation ended improper practices.

M McCabe said that in the first half of 1968, Blue Shield held up payment on many claims at the request of the State Department of Social Services because the Legislature had not appropriated funds to cover the program. Many of those claims were paid later in the year when funds became available, causing the claims totals for the closing months of 1968 to be inordinately high.

In fact, McCabe said, for the (see back page, sec. 1, col. 8)

Is Hutch's Scalp In Danger?

While some readers might read the heading to mean will Charlie Zollar, our State Senator, solidify the rumor he may go after the G.O.P. Congressional nomination in the Fourth District in the July primary, we have in mind the upholding of President Nixon's vetoing the HEW bill larded with goodies for certain educational functions.

Rep. Edward Hutchinson was one of 191 Democrats and Republicans sustaining the veto over the bitter exhortations from the educational lobby.

Following Wednesday's tally, the president of the National Educational Association, a prime mover in the HEW pork barrel bill, said his organization will make it a point to unseat those House members who lined up in Nixon's corner.

He was particularly bitter about a half dozen, unnamed Congressmen whom he said switched on a promise to override the veto.

Since Hutchinson was committed to the Administration's position months ago, the NEA president was reserving his sharpest darts for other House members. It is safe to assume, however, that the NEA national headquarters will urge the local chapters in the Fourth District to mark Hutchinson for what to a Congressman or Senator is the fate worse than death — retirement at the polls.

It has been so many years, decades in fact, since the Fourth District has witnessed a close race that one can only speculate in this wintry atmosphere how the winds will blow in early November.

If we were pressed to hazard a guess at this time, we would think more factors than the NEA's footwork would have to be fed into the computer to obtain a Democratic victory reading nine months hence.

A Zollar primary campaign probably would be more of a horse race than the final round between the two party's contestants.

The Detroit Free Press editorialized in its Friday edition that the HEW fight between Nixon and the Democratic Congressional majority was a staged battle for the benefit of the politicians on each side of the fence.

As The Free Press writer sees it, the Democrats pork barreled the bill as a campaign issue which the White House has not already appropriated for itself.

A Republican label on items such as de-escalating Viet Nam, assailing pollution, fighting crime, and beating down inflation, the Democrats decided that education seemed to be a good issue overlooked by Nixon.

Knowing he had the votes to sustain a veto, the President elected to meet the HEW challenge with his anti-inflation punch.

Again, to paraphrase The Free

Press, the combatants probably will retreat behind the curtain and emerge later on with an educational aid bill acceptable to both sides. The kids won't be left out in the cold. Neither will the 1970-71 budget be swollen beyond the bursting point.

The Detroit paper is speaking more truth than poetry.

The same maneuvering for position is going on at Lansing on the parochialid hassle.

The merit of how close the privately supported school system may be to financial collapse or the constitutionality of deploying public funds for a private, that is, church oriented, purpose counts for less than the feedback the state legislators receive from the home folks.

Conceding that the politicians in exercising the art of self preservation frequently must stir a dust cloud when no storm really exists, the Washington and Lansing shadow boxing is not a completely fixed embroglio.

The educational lobby in both capitals has made no bones of its intention to maintain its dollar input at all cost. If the public will not tax itself directly and sufficiently by way of millage elections, then state and federal aid, over which the public has no control, is the next and, because of this control feature, the best move.

This determination collides with an emerging belief that maybe there is something to the adage that one should cut his sail according to his cloth.

Education is an essential function of government, but it is not the only necessity in the American scheme of things. When the money supply starts to tighten, as it has been for the past 18 months or so, then a sensible apportioning of the available financing among major priorities is in order.

The Administration and Congress already have reached agreement on that principle on defense spending, outer space exploration and foreign aid. In a bumbling sort of way the parochialid proponents are urging a similar accommodation at Lansing.

The leaders in any governmental function do not accept this enforced application of the brotherhood theory.

The educational lobby in that respect is no better nor any worse than other functions paid from the public till.

Each, in his own mirror, is the difference between the maintenance or the downfall of the republic or the state of Michigan as the debating forum may be.

This makes for good rhetoric but not much sense.

It also sharpens the pruning shears come election time.

Hutchinson can expect to hear those shears snipping away this year.

So will the reader.

But remember who is turning the grindstone and why.

Not Worth A Farthing

Britons may finally have found something to disturb their unflappable exteriors. They are in the process of converting to decimal coinage and the transition is not proceeding graciously.

Two new decimal coins were put into use last April, a new 50-cent penny was introduced in October and on January 1st, the old half crown ceased to be legal tender.

All of these are steps toward the final conversion date of Feb.

15, 1971, when the current coinage of farthings, florins, shillings, truppenny bits and sixpences will disappear in favor of coins in denominations of one-half penny, two pence, five, 10 and 50 pence. The pound will be the only old denomination to survive.

Undoubtedly visitors to Britain will welcome the change. They have been universally confused by British money for generations. Britons already are showing considerable irritation over the changeover.

For one thing, some of the new coins bear striking likenesses to the old, but the values differ considerably. Then there is the matter of machines. Virtually every vending machine and cash register in Britain must be converted and the transition period is trying for both consumer and machine owner.

The traditionalists will not be completely overcome by the changeover. The guinea, a mythical coin which doesn't exist but which has an official value of $2.52, probably will survive. Even the people in charge of the new money system don't know what to do about a denomination which doesn't exist except in a large part of the pricing system of retail trade.

No Mirage!

Inside Washington

WASHINGTON — An interesting new coalition has surfaced in Congress. Its members: The more liberal Democrats and the more conservative Republicans. Its goal: To end the foreign aid program, a hallmark of American foreign policy for nearly a quarter of a century.

In the recently concluded session of Congress it achieved some remarkable successes. Foreign aid now is at a record low of less than $2 billion a year, and the votes passing this pared-down bill were among the closest ever on the issue.

The odd thing is that the two components of this new alliance are pursuing the same goal for very different reasons. Conservative legislators, many of them representing areas with isolationist roots, have long argued that foreign aid represents a huge and useless giveaway: The foreign equivalent of the New Deal.

The liberals in Congress were until recently supporters of foreign aid almost to a man. In the European (Marshall Plan) phase, they argued that Americans had a solemn duty to rebuild an area that had helped to devastate. In the post-Europe ("third world") phase, they argued that the more advanced countries and particularly the United States had a duty to bring the "underdeveloped" world up to the Euro-American level.

RELIGION TODAY

Ben-Gurion's Mind Like Keen Computer

By LESTER KINSOLVING
On the outside, David Ben-Gurion's house appears modest but attractive. It is situated on the tree-lined Boulevard Keren Kayemet, only a block from the Mediterranean shore and is kept under constant police guard lest some Arab extremist attempt to assassinate this national symbol.

On the inside, the house is something else: The rooms are walled with books to the extent that it might be an outpost of the New York Public Library. Never have I seen so many books in a residence. I was admiring them when a door opened and I found myself face to face with this octogenarian founder of a nation.

Initially I was amazed — not by that face, at once powerful and benign, nor by those familiar tufts of white hair. It was that he was so much smaller than his photographs suggest. His size simply did not seem to go with the international stature this man has acquired in his long life.

David Ben-Gurion, on May 14, 1948, read the proclamation of independence that gave Jews their own nation for the first time in 2000 years.

Now, 22 years later and at the age of 82, he still possesses an extraordinarily keen mind — as I learned when I asked permission to tape the interview.

"First, before you tape, tell me the questions you have in mind," he said, nodding at each question; in such manner as to suggest the intake action of a giant computer.

It turned out that interviewing Ben-Gurion is like requesting a fortune cookie and receiving the Encyclopedia Britannica. Original questions are quickly lost as he roars off on fascinating tangents.

He revealed that it was a devout Christian who met with him and Chaim Weizmann to formulate the final plans for the State of Israel. "Orde Wingate had an enormous amount to do with the establishment of Israel; he was very much devoted to the Jewish Bible."

(Wingate, a British general, died during World War II at the head of Wingate's Raiders in Burma. He also trained the first units of the Palmach, the military arm of the Hagannah, the underground Jewish government. "He was my great teacher," says Defense Minister Moshe Dayan.)

Israel's elder statesman also disclosed:

• "When Nasser first appeared, I thought that this was the Arab Mustafa Kemal. He is not. He wants to be head of the entire Arab world and thinks he can be if he can destroy Israel."

• "Russia was the first to recognize our right to be a state and it was Gromyko who made it possible for Abba Eban to be recognized by the United Nations. Truman was for us, his State Department was not. Roosevelt who was never here, looked on his map and thought we were too small to exist."

• "Our Proclamation of Independence provided freedom of religion — except in one way: marriage. We thought that this should be religious out of consideration to the Oriental Jews who came in after World War II. But I wouldn't do this again, because the rabbis abuse this. My daughter-in-law, an English girl, wanted to become Jewish at the time of the marriage, and they expected her to spend a whole year in study. . . . they don't condemn me because I don't go to Synagogue here in Israel — but they did criticize me because I write on Shabbat."

• "I consider the man who built Christianity was St. Paul — not Jesus, he was a Jew; Paul was the greatest Jewish assimilationist. I first read the New Testament in Greek and there is one letter — to the Corinthians — that ought to be a part of Hebrew literature. too: but most Christian Bibles translate the critical word as 'charity' instead of 'love.'"

As to his own religious beliefs, Mr. Ben-Gurion replied:

"I believe — I am certain — there is a God. I believe that matter and spirit are the same thing — which really means pantheism. There are many Jews who are pantheists. As far as I know, Spinoza was a pantheist."

"I don't know if there is an afterlife — I think there is. There is order in the world, so who made it? . . . There may be creations a thousand times bigger and more sensible than human beings, but this is nothing in comparison to God."

From this, the conversation turned to Paula Ben-Gurion, who from all reports was near-perfection as wife, mother, housekeeper, personal accountant and everything else he needed as he concerned himself with the birth of a nation. Mrs. Ben-Gurion died only recently.

I believe I saw his eyes moisten slightly and his voice softened, as he spoke of how very much she had meant to him. . . . how he remembered her weeping when he left to join the British Army in World War I; how she had left New York to go with him to the then primitive Palestine; how she accepted his desire to return to a desert kibbutz after having been Prime Minister. He could even remember details of their wedding.

While David Ben-Gurion acknowledged that there was no proof that there is an afterlife, there was little doubt that the possibility of reunion with such a woman is of utmost importance in his concept of the greatness of God.

Opening lead—king of spades. Declarer is frequently forced to find the winning line of play because the logic of the situation demands it. In such hands he proceeds on the basis that the outstanding cards are divided in a specific way, for, if they are not, he cannot make the contract.

Take this hand where West starts with the A-K of spades. South ruffs and there seems to be very little to the play, since he can count ten tricks in hearts and clubs.

But a complication arises when he leads a trump to the ten and a trump back to the king. West showing out. If South draws West's two remaining trumps at this point, he will be unable to cash five club tricks, since he has no further entry to his hand after cashing dummy's high clubs.

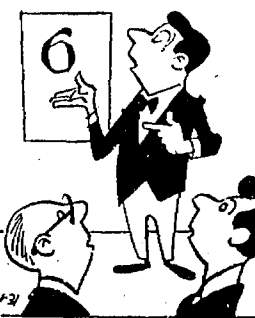

If he stops drawing trumps in order to first cash the A-K-Q of clubs, he runs the risk of East's ruffing one of them for the setting trick.

What does declarer do in such a predicament? The first thing he does is allocate the missing cards in a way that permits the contract to be made. To play on any other basis would be equivalent to giving up.

The outcome of the hand obviously depends on how the clubs are divided. South dismisses from consideration those hands where East has less than two clubs. He must go down if East has either a singleton or a void.

He next turns to cases where East has two, three, four or five clubs. In all these cases he can guarantee the contract by proper play.

South stops drawing trumps and cashes the A-K of clubs, both opponents following suit. Since it would be dangerous to continue with the queen — East might have only two clubs and ruff — South reverts to drawing trumps. He cashes the A-J, being careful to discard the queen of clubs from dummy, and is thus able to cash his remaining clubs.

Florenz Ziegfeld has nothing to do with it!

C&O Will Help Pay For Seawall

Completion Of Project Expected During 1970

A heavy duty sea wall will extend from Lions park to Hawthorne avenue, St. Joseph, following the announcement that Chesapeake and Ohio Railway will pay for 600 more feet costing $122,000.

The state highway department is seeking approval of the Army Corps of Engineers to install approximately 6,000 feet of sea wall. The highway department will include the section for the railroad in the highway contract, but the railroad will pay for it, a C&O spokesman said.

When the highway department project is finished sometime in 1970 there will be some sort of sea wall from the St. Joseph water works extending south to a point opposite Hawthorne avenue.

The St. Joseph water works is protected by considerable rip rap. The present railroad sea wall extends about 4,000 feet along the right of way south from the water works. The 600 foot link now planned would be roughly opposite the viaduct where the railroad right of way turns east.

The highway department sea wall is designed to keep Lake Shore drive (Business Route 1-94) from sliding into Lake Michigan. Bid letting was scheduled for January but has been postponed awaiting Army Corps of Engineers approval. Target for the bid letting now is March.

The need for a sea wall has been intensified since earth slides have come within a yard of the edge of the highway. The latest slides have prompted the highway department to detour trucks away from that section of the highway.

Crime Laboratory Goal For Western Michigan

State Police Start Project

The Michigan State police hope to establish a crime laboratory in western Michigan, according to Capt. Wallace Van Stratt, head of the crime lab at East Lansing.

The project is still in the embryo stage and a location has not been determined, Capt. Van Stratt said. Federal grants are available for such projects, but the state police don't have an allocation yet.

Crime labs were opened last year at Plymouth and Warren in eastern Michigan. "We would like to start moving in western Michigan," said Capt. Van Stratt.

There are other factors besides money. "Very few people are available to do the work. Training is long and exacting," the captain explained.

PREFERS LAB

Berrien Sheriff Forrest (Nick) Jewell criticized plans to open a state police post in north Berrien county by saying the money could be better spent by establishing a satellite crime lab in the area. This would avoid delays in getting a mobile lab from East Lansing or taking evidence to state police headquarters.

Funds for the state police post are in appropriation bills for the next fiscal year. Sen.

Charles Zollar predicted last week they would be passed by the state legislature.

Benton Harbor Det. Lt. Ronald Smith said his department finds the crime lab service invaluable for identification of paint fragments, tool markings, narcotics, ballistics tests and questioned documents.

Lab personnel "are highly trained in working a crime scene with equipment and the closer they are the better," Smith said.

Cass Gas Station Held Up

JONES — Kelter's service station on M-60 about two miles east of here was reported held up by two young men who the station owner said escaped with between $52 and $54, Cass county sheriff's officers reported.

Clyde Kelter, owner, told deputies two men entered the station about 6:20 a.m. and demanded the money at gunpoint. Deputies said Kelter reported that he gave the two the money and they locked him in a back room.

Deputies were told the two were white, about 17 years old, weighed about 140 pounds and had extremely long hair. Kelter reported he freed himself from the room in about 10 minutes.

The attendant was identified as William Klemm, Jr., 22, Lynch road, Hagar township. He was treated at Memorial hospital, St. Joseph, and released.

Wounded were Carl Sylvester Williams, 32, Hagar Shore road, Lake Michigan Beach, and William Milton DuBoise, 26, McKinley street, also Lake Michigan Beach. They are white.

GOOD CONDITION

Williams was hit twice in the stomach. DuBoise was hit in the stomach and once in the left arm, deputies said. They were placed under guard at Mercy hospital, Benton Harbor, pending dispositions of formal charges. The hospital reported their conditions as "good."

Deputy Abbott Taylor said attempted armed robbery charges would be sought by the department.

The shooting occurred about 4:10 a.m. in the famous service station, US-33 business route, about six miles north of Benton Harbor. The attendant was alone in the station when the men entered.

According to Taylor, the attendant told him the men entered while he was bringing a bucket and mop from a rear room and asked where the restroom was located.

Klemm said one of the men, the taller of the two, swung at him then, hitting him in the face. The other man, he said, began hitting him with a chain.

Klemm said he struggled with the two without pulling his gun until the larger man came at him with a knife. He said he pushed him away once before pulling the .38 caliber pistol out of his pocket.

According to Klemm, the man with the chain kept hitting him so he fired one shot to scare them away and then fired at the man with the chain. When the other man came at him still holding the knife, he said he fired point-blank.

Klemm told Taylor both men fled from the station.

Taylor said Benton township officers Sgt. Robert Burton and Robert Nick, Benton Harbor officer Larry Morrow and Deputy David Sweet tracked one of the men, later identified as Williams, to a tree north of the station. He had gone behind the station and walked northward back to US-33 where he was spotted by officers.

ARRESTED AT HOME — The other suspect was arrested at his home on McKinley street. He had driven away from the station in a pickup truck.

Sheriff's Lt. Ronald Shalon and Taylor and St. Joseph officer Max Kelsch took DuBoise into custody.

Klemm told officers that the two men had been in the service station about 11:30 p.m. and bought a dollar's worth of gas for the truck.

The attendant said he was carrying the weapon in his pocket as a normal precaution. He said he was getting ready to begin mopping the station when the men entered.

The station is open on a 24-hour day basis.

Stevensville Woman Sues Loan Firm

Mrs. Frances Fortner of Stevensville, filed a $20,000 damage suit Friday in Berrien circuit court against a Benton Harbor loan firm claiming her wages are improperly being assigned.

She claims, through Atty. Edward Yampolsky, that Beneficial Finance Co. is taking her wages for a $1,000 loan while the loan and wage assignment actually are the responsibility of her estranged husband living out-of-state.

ATTENDANT BEATEN: William Klemm, Jr., 22, told Berrien sheriff's officers he was chain-whipped by two men who accosted him in service station. He told Berrien sheriff's officers he wounded them with a gun in self-defense. Klemm's shirt is blood-stained from wounds on face and side of head. (Staff photo)

RUSCH OUTCORED, BERRIEN TRIUMPHS

Blossom Stars In Standoff

By JOHN VANDEN HEED
Staff Sports Writer

THREE OAKS — Berrien Springs' Denny Rusch had the last word in the confrontation of Blossomland giants here Friday night.

Rusch was outcored by River Valley counterpart Todd Noble 30 to 26 but posted a 21 to 9 rebounding edge as the Shamrocks came off with a 65-57 victory.

"He said he wasn't concerned about his average," commented Berrien Springs coach Connie Stover. "He said let's get the ball game first."

With the two stars, considered by many the best the Blossomland has ever seen, finishing in a virtual standoff, it was Rusch's teammates who made the difference.

Rusch, who went into the game as the southwestern Michigan scoring leader with a 29.9 average, connected on 11 of 24 field goal attempts and four of five free throws while Noble, who stands second in the point derby at 27.3, meshed 11 of 25 from the floor and 8 of 10 in the charity department.

But teammates of Noble hit on just 23 per cent of their shots for a poor overall squad mark of 31 per cent. Rusch's cohorts, meanwhile, swished 47 per cent of their attempts for an impressive team mark of 46 per cent.

Shamrock forward Doug Stover meshed nine free throws for a total of 15 points, while Pepper Colvin, who had tallied just 33 points through Berrien's first six games, hit double figures for the fourth straight time with a total of 12. Guard Tim Lemon was good for 10 more.

Guard Jim Turley followed Noble in the Mustang scoring column with 12, while Don Martell netted 11.

Berrien Springs played without two boys who've seen action as starters this season. Tom Lunneen is sidelined with mononucleosis and Steve Stemm is out with a bad case of flu.

"I think we had more power on the boards and that made a difference," continued Stover. "And they were also trying to get two men on Rusch and that left some of our boys open for key baskets."

The 6-5 Noble played 6-8 Rusch man-to-man with occasional help from teammates, while Berrien mostly played a straight zone. Noble roamed the base line in the Mustang 1-3-1 offense but at times went head-to-head with Rusch when moving up to the high post.

"We were trying to get help when the ball was in a certain position," explained Mustang coach Jerry Schaffer of his defense on Rusch. "But what killed us was the other guys."

Berrien Springs' overall 51 to 26 rebounding edge was partly compensated for by the Shamrocks making 21 turnovers against just seven for the well-drilled Mustangs.

A slow first period ended with River Valley holding its last lead of the night at 10-8.

Berrien scored nine of the first 10 points of the second period, as Valley was missing its first five field goal attempts, and wasn't topped the rest of the way. Berrien's biggest lead of the first half was 29-18 after a seven-point burst.

Valley then missed its first six chances of the third period while Berrien widened its lead to 13 at 34-21 and 36-23.

The first of two Mustang comeback efforts followed as Noble and Turley sparked a 10-point rally which cut the deficit to 36-33.

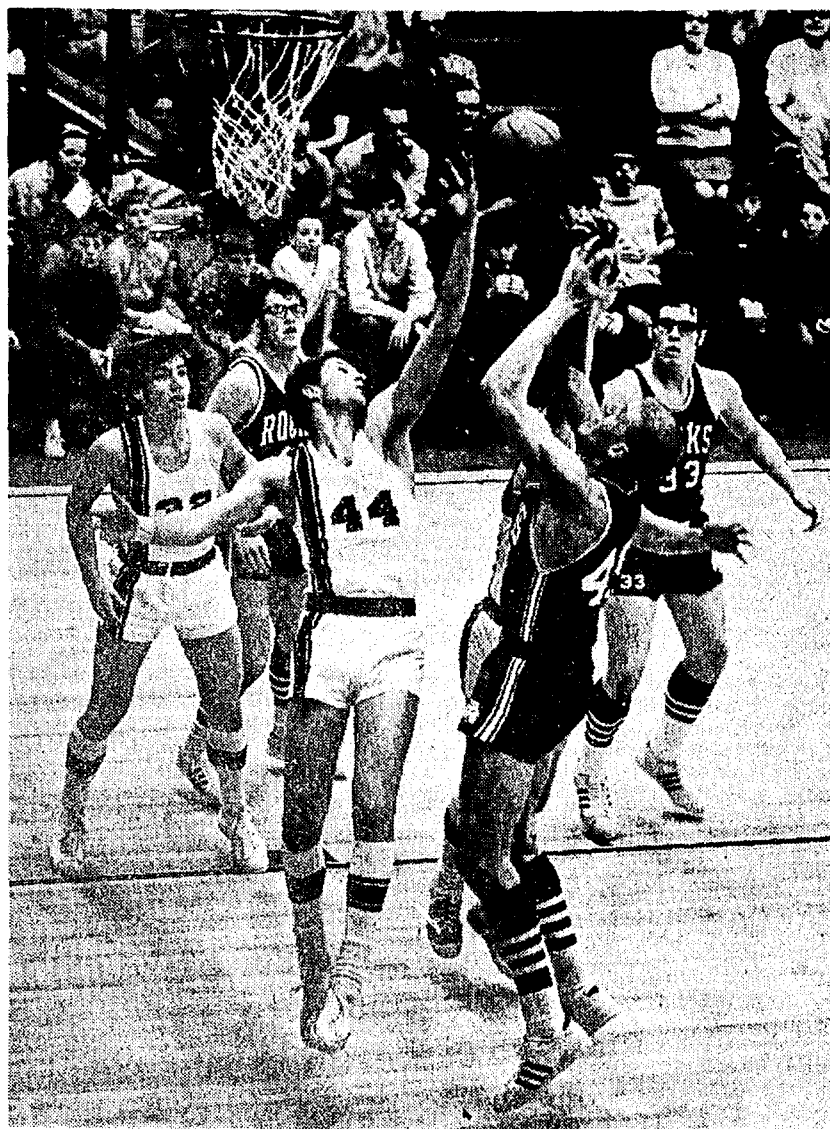

Berrien recovered to lead 42-37 entering the fourth quarter and to record its biggest leads of the night at 55-41 and 57-43.

Valley's last-ditch rally followed when eight points without a return were put through the hoop to narrow the gap to 61-57 with 51 seconds left to play. But those proved to be the Mustangs' last points.

Berrien Springs now stands 4-2 in the Blossomland and 6-4 overall, while River Valley is about out of the conference race at 4-3. The Mustangs are 5-7 on the season.

River Valley did win Friday's junior varsity preliminary 51-43 with Jeff Townsend meshing 17 points and Dave Turley 15. John Mocks and Russ Ewald had 12 each for the junior Shamrocks.

'Reckless' Bears Win

Central Is Buried By Fast Start

By JAKE SHUBINSKI
Staff Sports Writer

The St. Joseph Bears ran and shot with reckless abandon Friday night on their way to an 80-68 Big Six conference victory over Portage Central before an appreciative audience in their home gym.

Instead of waiting until the second half to overcome a 21-point deficit as they did at Portage, coach George Gaunders' crew started fast, had a couple of cold streaks, but recovered each time to bring their record back up to the .500 mark at 5-5.

After opening up a 7-1 lead before Central scored its first field goal midway in the first quarter, the Bears raced to a 32-14 lead three minutes deep in the second period, then had a few anxious moments late in the half as the Mustangs narrowed the margin to 34-26.

But by the time the third quarter was three minutes old, St. Joseph had put the game out of reach with a 56-35 lead.

It marked the first time this season that the Bears had led from start to finish in a game and it was made possible by a .556 shooting percentage compiled on 35 field goals — a season high — in 63 shots.

The Bears used a fast break and some exceptional outcourt shooting by guard Dan Brege and forward Packy Ryan which overcame a 45-26 rebounding edge held by the Mustangs.

Although the Bears were never in real danger, they couldn't pull away nor could they hold the big leads that they twice enjoyed.

"We had too many turnovers and we weren't getting the boards," observed Gaunders who gave these two reasons for the Bears' failure to really put it away for keeps early.

The first half was a game of giveaway as the Mustangs were charged with 26 turnovers, 13 in each quarter, and the Bears gave the ball back 20 times.

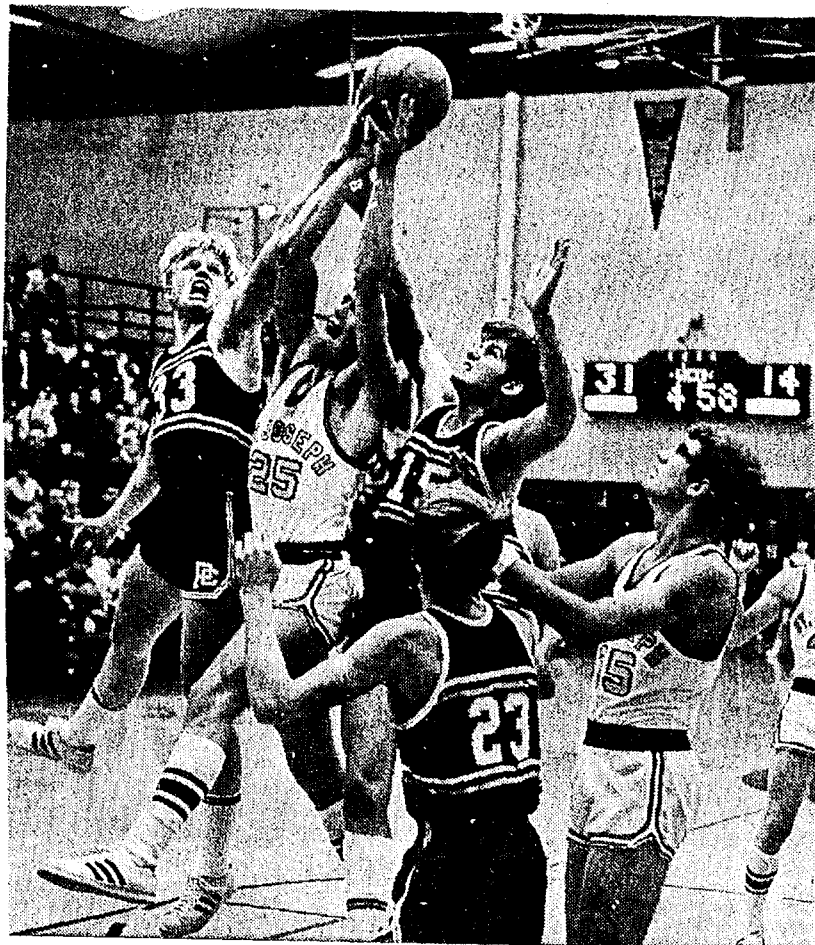

On the plus side of Gaunders' ledger was the fact that the Bears intercepted 23 Portage passes, 15 in the first half when they built a 44-30 intermission margin.

Then there was the defensive play of Scott Martuz and Brege. Martuz turned in his best effort of the season as he either blocked or deflected 11 Portage shots. Brege's hounding of Portage's guards resulted in numerous bad passes that resulted in interceptions.

The Bears did their best running against Portage's first half man-to-man defense that was unable to get set up too often as the Bears, who used an off-and-

EAU CLAIRE ROLLS TO RECORD, 115-48!

EAU CLAIRE — Guard Robert Grandberry netted a career high 29 points while powering mighty Eau Claire to another school scoring record here Friday night.

Coach Jon Frye's Beavers, the state's third-ranked Class C team, topped the century mark for the third straight game in an 115-48 Red Arrow romp over Decatur.

The total of 115 eclipsed a 10-day-old record set in an 111-59 beating of New Buffalo. That game was followed with an 100-66 triumph over Watervliet.

"Grandberry had a real good night," commented Frye. "We've been looking for him to come through anytime . . . and tonight was his night. We just hope he can keep going."

Grandberry got plenty of support with all-state 6-8 center Ray Bowerman collecting 28 points, while forward Charles Osby added 18 and guard Dennis Prillwitz 11.

Bowerman meshed 12 of 13 field goal attempts, and Grandberry hit on 14 of 22. The Beavers as a team posted a deadly 58 shooting average from the floor in connecting on 45 of 78 attempts.

At the free throw lines, Eau Claire hit on 25 of 40 and Decatur 18 of 37.

"We were running real good and pressing them real good in the second half," continued Frye. "They had a lot of turnovers."

Decatur was guilty of a costly 31 turnovers. Eau Claire also posted a sound 51 to 36 rebounding edge with Bowerman pulling down 16 and Allen Chisek 9. Rick Overley was tops for the Raiders with 9. He was also the lone Raider to score in double figures with 15.

Eau Claire had 49 points at halftime and spurred to the scoring record with a 44-point fourth period.

Eau Claire, southwestern Michigan's highest scoring team, has now won 28 consecutive regular season games and 25 in a row in the Red Arrow.

The Beavers are 8-0 in the conference this season and 12-0 overall. Decatur, which has allowed 66 points or more in its last eight outings, now stands at 5-4 in the league 5-6 on the season.

Decatur did salvage a split for the evening Friday with a junior varsity victory.

Lancers Need 2 Knockout Blows To Floor Buchanan

By JIM DeLAND
Sports Editor

Lakeshore needed two knockout punches to put Buchanan down for the count in a Blossomland conference basketball battle Friday night.

Coach Russ Olin's Lancers swatted the visiting Bucks with a 30-point haymaker in the first period, but still had to come from behind in the final five minutes to pull off a harrowing 85-82 victory on their home court.

The triumph keeps the Lancers firmly atop the Blossomland standings with a perfect 7-0 record while the loss leaves Buchanan at 1-5. Overall, Lakeshore is 9-2 and Buchanan 2-8.

"I don't know how we won it, to be honest," Olin said. "We got a little wild and stopped rebounding there for a while and you have to give Buchanan credit — they played a good game."

The big blow for Buchanan fell with 5:25 left in the game when 6-6 center Dave Hassan was whistled down with his fifth personal foul after cuffing Lakeshore's Greg Rodewald in a scramble under the basket.

The Bucks were leading 71-63 at the time Hassan went to the sidelines, but without him they were outscored 22-11 in the remainder of the game while futilely trying to combat Lakeshore's superior height.

"They killed us on the boards after Dave went out," Buchanan coach Don Rennback admitted. "They got that second and third shot and there wasn't much we could do about it. Let's face it — Lakeshore's a big team."

The biggest Lancer on the scoreboard was 6-3 center Dan Rosenhagen, who powered Lakeshore's comeback with 14 points in the fourth quarter — 11 after Hassan fouled out — and finished the game with a total of 28.

Forward Greg Rodewald added a career high of 21 points. Steve Gaunders tossed in 18 and Mark Tollas bagged 13 as Lakeshore went with its five starters all the way except for a brief minute at the end of the first half.

Buchanan also had four players in double figures, with Hassan also hitting a career peak of 26 points while Steve Berry scored 16, Jeff Clark 14 and Gary Dickow 10.

Rodewald, working the boards like a demon for easy second shots, scored 17 of his points in the first quarter when the Lancers destroyed a Buchanan zone press with a furious fast break and fired 32 shots at the basket while blasting into a 30-18 lead.

But by halftime Buchanan had narrowed the gap to only three points by breaking Lakeshore's 1-2-2 halfcourt trap with passes to Hassan in the middle while effectively holding the Lancers outside with a 2-1-2 zone.

"We worked on that all week — get the ball and go right up the middle," Rennback said of the Bucks' strategy against the press that saw Hassan hit 9 of 12 shots while scoring 19 points in the first half.

"That's his (Hassan's) best game since he's been in high school — no question about that."

While Hassan was getting the easy baskets, the Lancers were getting almost nothing at all, turning the ball over nine times in the second quarter and hitting only three of 21 shots.

"The Lancers effectively shut

Hassan down by cutting off most of the passes and backing him on defense the rest of the way, but Berry swished in the first two baskets of the second half and the lead changed hands 10 times in the third quarter, with Lakeshore emerging with a slim 60-59 lead.

That disappeared rapidly as Buchanan reeled off the first eight points of the fourth quarter to surge ahead 67-60 and the Bucks appeared to have the Lancers on the ropes until Hassan went out.

With 6:1 Steve Klingerman replacing Hassan in the middle of the Buchanan zone, the Bucks were unable to do much except foul as the taller Lancers worked the boards and worked their way back into the game.

Rodewald was fouled while scoring on a layup that tied the game at 79-79 with 1:27 to go, and Rosenhagen turned it into a four-point play by tipping the missed free throw into the basket to put Lakeshore ahead to stay at 81-79. A pair of free throws by Gaunders and a layup by Rosenhagen wrapped up the victory before a final basket by Dickow ended the scoring.

Lakeshore charts showed the Lancers with a 57-34 rebounding advantage, with Rodewald grabbing 19, Chris Knapp 14, Tollas 13 and Rosenhagen 11. Buchanan had Klingerman with 17 rebounds and Hassan with 14.

As a result of their board superiority, the Lancers got off a barrage of 97 shots but connected only 35 times for a .361 average while Buchanan was hitting 33 of 72 (.458) from the field. From the foul line Lakeshore canned 15 of 27 and Buchanan 16 of 26.

Buchanan's junior varsity did salvage a victory in the preliminary game, coming from behind in the fourth quarter to edge the Lancer jayvees 84-79 on a big one-two punch from Dave Zdenalik and John Gorbitz.

Zdenalik scored 30 points and Gorbitz 28 for the Bucks while Al Weiss tallied 25 for Lakeshore with Scott Omstead adding 16, Bud Shaffer 14 and Jack Beck 10.

Even the seventh, or eighth, or ninth Savings Bond will be as welcome as the first. Which is one reason why they make a pretty nice gift. Especially for a wedding.

And in a few years, a young couple will open up that bottom drawer to cash in their wedding Bonds. Matured and filled with interest. It'll be like found money.

What's more, in a few years there might be a couple of kids. A few more expenses. Who ever heard of some found money not being put to good use? So you see, even if your Bond is the impetuous one they get, they can use it. A lot better than three chafing dishes.

If they're lost, stolen, or destroyed, we replace 'em.
